

Local baseball fans will be afforded one of the greatest baseball treats of the year when Chuck Dressen's Major League All-Stars meet Bizz Mackey's Negro All-Stars at Ruppert Stadium under the lights tomorrow night. This will be the third of a five games series between the two clubs and a hotly contested game is expected to result.

Bill Byrd, veteran spitball pitcher of the Baltimore Elite Giants, ~~is~~ looms as the likely pitching choice for the colored nine. Byrd is one of the few remaining moist ball hurlers in baseball and is expected to give the major leaguers plenty of trouble solving his tricky delivery. His recent five hits against an all star International League team at Baltimore recently shows how effective he can be against batters not used to his spitter.

The ~~balance of the~~ colored team will see "Showboat" Thomas, New York Cubans, 1b; Frank Austin, Philly Stars, 2b; Willie Wells, Black Yanks, ss and Murray Watkins, Newark Eagles, 3b composing the infield while Len Pearson, Monty Irvin and Johnny Davis or Bob Harvey of the Newark Eagles will be in the outfield. Roy Campanella of the Baltimore Elites will do the catching with Don Newcombe and Len Hooker of the Newark Eagles, Roy Partlow of the Philly Stars completing the pitching staff.

Chuck Dressen will have such well known stars as Kurowski, Cards, 3b; Stankey, Dodgers, 2b; Kerr, Giants, 3b; McCormick, Reds, 1b in the infield while Bordagay and Rosen of the Dodgers and Russell of the Pirates will be in the outfield. Clyde Kluttz of the Giants will do the catching with Gregg and Branca of the Dodgers and Mungo, Ginals, pitcher composing the pitching staff.
